the best places

pre-event grooming

Turn to these hair and makeup pros to achieve just the right look for special occasions.

Modern

Erika Audrey's easygoing and unflappable personality has made her a favorite among Atlanta brides. Based out of the midtown salon Helmet (970 Piedmont Ave., 404-815-1629), the in-demand hairstylist always includes a pre-wedding dress rehearsal in the cost of a session (from $75).

Natural

Melissa Merhar-Parker (678-777-0255) calls on her 10 years of experience to achieve a slightly more amped-up version of your everyday glow. Her house calls (from $99) include false lashes and lip gloss samples for touch-ups. An admitted germaphobe, she's extra meticulous about sterilizing brushes between appointments.

Timeless

Insiders sync their social calendars with Kimberly Mack (404-663-1495, kimberlymackbeautygroup.com), who clocked 20 years as an artist for beauty-world biggies like Laura Mercier and Bobbi Brown. During bookings (from $75), Mack captures a dewy look by blending and contouring classic hues.

Dramatic

One of the most requested names at Buckhead's Entebello Apothecary & Spa (324 E. Paces Ferry Rd. NE, 404-477-3434), Kat Wallace skillfully mixes deep blues and aubergines for a twist on the smoky eye. She charges from $25 for daytime looks to $75 for full-evening makeup, but those fees can be applied toward product purchases—making the sessions essentially free.

the lowdown...

beauty news

The ultra-popular Bliss Spa has debuted its second Atlanta oasis, in the swank, just-opened downtown W Atlanta hotel (45 Ivan Allen Jr. Blvd., 404-582-5776), offering standout services like the 60-minute Pedi-colada pedicure ($70), which includes a pineapple-and-coconut-milk foot soak accompanied by a virgin piña colada. ... The Northeast Buckhead shopping district's freshly minted Color Bar (3277D Roswell Rd., 404-861-2200) houses the lively, two-chair studio of stylists Jim Crawford and Allison McTigue, whose precision cuts (from $65) have a loyal following.
