

▲ TOMAS MAIER, WAINSCOTT, NY
 The fashion designer brings his curatorial eye to the Hamptons with a second outpost of his eponymous shop. Maier's clothing and accessories mix with objects by Meissen and Heath Ceramics, as well as hostess-worthy gifts such as Denis Colomb cashmere throws and Diptyque candles.
 411 Montauk Hwy., 631-537-1880; tomasmaier.com

W ATLANTA DOWNTOWN, A ATLANTA

Set in the city's bustling downtown, this new W Hotel sports whimsical, garden-inspired touches throughout its modernist interiors, including a mobile that resembles a tree canopy in the lobby. Rooms and suites are appointed with Macassar-wood furnishings, and the hotel boasts an infinity-edge pool, Bliss Spa, and BLT Steak eatery. 45 Ivan Allen Jr. Blvd., 404-582-5800; whotelsatlanta.com terrace showcases a small vegetable garden. 1320 Castro St., 415-285-0250; contigof.com

< TODD HASE, LOS ANGELES
 Designer Todd Hase has recently joined the ranks of high-profile trendsetters in the La Cienega Design Quarter. The bright 1,200-square-foot store displays his company's furniture, textiles, and accessories, including French-inspired cocktail tables and modern takes on Regency and Directoire seating, alongside an array of antique home furnishings handpicked by Hase. 729 N. La Cienega Blvd., 310-657-6768; toddhase.com

22 ELLEDECOR.COM

